

SDG 16 CONFERENCE

Peace, Justice & Inclusive Societies

SDG 16 as a compass for navigating intersecting crises

30 May – 1 June 2023
Rome, Italy

SPEAKER BIO

Ms Pato Kelesitse, Founder of Sustain267

Pato Kelesitse is a climate justice advocate and development practitioner who advocates for sustainable development, with a gendered lens, as a critical development pillar. She engages in conversation and communication as a primary tool of advocacy. Her experience in advocacy includes youth and community engagement and mobilization, workshop facilitation, and project coordination. She holds a Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in Accounting and Finance and is a Masters of Arts in Development Studies candidate at the University of Botswana. Kelesitse is an official party delegate with the Government of Botswana to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change.

Kelesitse is the founder of Sustain267 and the host of the Sustain267 Podcast, a series of climate change and sustainability conversations with Africans to amplify their voices and solutions within the climate justice movement. She has previously served as the coordinator of Resilient 40. Currently, she is a project officer at the South African Climate Action Network and Curator of Global Shapers Community Gaborone Hub. She serves as an advisor for Urgent Action Fund- Africa and is a FuturElect Fellow.