
Kim O'Sullivan

Associate Director – Legal Transition Team
European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD)

Kim O'Sullivan is an Associate Director of the EBRD Legal Transition Team with responsibility for developing legal reform projects focused on the strengthening of dispute resolution mechanisms through judicial capacity building and alternative dispute resolution. She joined EBRD in 2007 and has practiced in EBRD's banking operations and corporate recovery teams, advising commercial colleagues on new investments, restructurings and distress situations.

Before joining EBRD, Kim practiced as a finance lawyer in the London and Moscow offices of CMS Cameron McKenna where she worked on a variety of cross-border finance transactions. Kim has travelled extensively across the CIS in a number of roles with the British Government and the Russo-British Chamber of Commerce.

Kim has a degree in Russian, French and Business from the University of Wales, has studied at Voronezh State University, Russian Federation, completed a master in transition economics at the School of Slavonic and East European Studies, London and has begun work on a doctoral thesis. She qualified as a solicitor in England and Wales in 2002.
